

The event was of suitable simplicity and dignity, and on presenting the medal and citation to Mrs. Kattan,¹ Dr. Ahmad Abu-Goura, President of the National Society, described in his address the importance of the award. The ceremony was given wide coverage by the press, radio and television.

HENRY DUNANT INSTITUTE

It will be recalled that the Henry Dunant Institute recently published a brochure on the Red Cross containing chapters dealing with the origins of the Red Cross, the National Societies, the League, the ICRC, the Geneva Conventions, International Conferences and Red Cross principles.

This 30-page work, generously illustrated, presenting a variety of activities, both past and present, carried on under the sign of the Red Cross, the Red Crescent and Red Lion and Sun, was issued in French, English, German, Arabic and Spanish. It has now been published in Italian under the name La Croce Rossa, and is obtainable from the Henry Dunant Institute in Geneva.

¹ Plate.